

Maureen O'Hara Ure

"My World on Fire" is the most recent of mixed -media panels where image and title can be read at least a couple ways. On one hand, this is a contemporary landscape, one which addresses the threat of climate change. Of equal interest to me in developing this painting over the past months---

--- its title gradually coming to the fore--- is the way in which it adds to my long series of autobiographical works.

